

I work for a major airline and I really think it would be a disservice to fellow psgrs to have to listen to someone's conversation for an entire flight. Alot of people are very loud when they talk. It's just not right to allow this in-flight because some people will be on the phone constantly. Thankyou.